PRESIDENT’S MESSAGE

A Special Thanks to This Year’s Volunteers:

I am not going to name names, but you know who you are. You did a great job this year and made my job very easy. So easy in fact that I have decided to remain one more year as president of the Reading Art Association. That is, of course, unless another person wishes to come forward and vie for the position. I can assure you that the job will be made very easy because of our fantastic executive board. Any organization is only as good as the volunteers who put in the hard work to make it successful.

I think that we had a fantastic year. A very good Fall Show, some great monthly demonstrations that were well-attended, and a wonderful Spring Show that is ongoing as I write this. Again, my thanks to all of the hard workers and exhibitors who make these shows possible.

We have our final event of the year, our annual dinner, coming up on Wednesday, June 11. Joe Brown of Joe Brown Digital Services will present a lively and entertaining program on photography. Everyone is welcome to attend this fine event. The reservation form is attached, and the deadline for reservations is Tuesday, June 3rd. Don’t miss out!

In case you can’t come to the annual dinner, I wish you a great summer, and I will see you all next September.

Tom

LOST? Following Jack Haran’s demonstration in March, Jack handed the microphone to someone, but the microphone didn’t get back into its box. Will whoever knows where it is please call Lou Doto at 781 944 2708.

A NOTE OF THANKS FROM OUR SPRING SHOW CHAIRS . . .

We are happy that the Spring Show was well received. Thanks to our members for all you did--for taking in and checking out paintings; setting up and taking down easels; hanging the show; and for all the wonderful contributions to our refreshment table! Thanks to our very important sales table; and also to our gracious greeters. A lot of people! We thank you all!

Evelyn and Grace

PEOPLE HAPPENINGS!

Lynne Cassinari exhibited a selection of her watercolor and oil paintings recently at the Northshore Unitarian Universalist Church in Danvers.

Florence Como's watercolor painting of Santorini, Greece, won the C. Gordon Harris Memorial Award at the Rhode Island Watercolor Society's 112th Annual Artist Member Show.

Lou Doto has a solo show from May 1st to the 27th at the Urban Living Studio, 58 Clarendon Street in Boston's South End.

Peg Drummey's "Paint Me a Lilac" was selected for the group show Lilacs-Visions of Spring at the Arnold Arboretum from April 12th through May 18th.

Nancy Freeman had two paintings in the Concord Art Association juried show in January, one of which won an oil award. Nancy also had a painting on exhibit at Rockport Art Association this winter.

Carol Groezinger's oil painting, Cadillac Mountain Acadia National Park, was included in the juried exhibit at REDbrick in Beverly this winter. Also, Carol's oil, Gnarled Survivor, was accepted into the juried Winter III Members Show at Newburyport Art Association.

Jack Jones will conduct two outdoor watercolor workshops, one on Cape Ann June 12-14 and one in Jeffersonville, VT, October 14-16. For information e-mail joneswatercolor@gmail.com or call 978-777-2242.

Phyllis Kaplan's artwork is on display at the Sovereign Bank in Danvers Square during May and June.

Carolyn Latanision received the Centennial Award at The Copley Society of Art invitational exhibit at Harvard Club of Boston in honor of their centennial celebration. The painting was purchased for Harvard University's permanent collection. Carolyn also completed two solo exhibits, one at Rockport Art Association in December 2007 and one in April 2008 at Belmont Hill School's Landau Gallery in Belmont, Massachusetts.

The Melrose Arts & Cultural Association's 2008 Arts Festival in April included, among many other famous artists, several members of RAA: Jeannette Corbett, Robert Cyr, Lou Doto, Don Fox, Ginger Greenblatt, Judy Greulich, Jack Jones, Susan Manning O'Briant, Chris Riccardi, Ed Rice, Nancy Roll, and Tom Sutherland.

Susan Manning O'Briant was the featured demonstrator at Danvers Art Association on May 10th.

Joyce Wood won the gold medal at the New England Watercolor Society's Winter Members Show at the Emmanuel Church Gallery on Newbury St. in January. This is her first medal! Joyce now has a web site: joycewood.com.
